Our Subsidiary in Singapore Attained Certifications of OHSAS18001 & bizSAFE (Level Star)

One of our wholly owned subsidiaries in Singapore, Union Services (S'pore) Pte Ltd ("USS"), attained certifications of OHSAS18001:2007, the international standards for management of occupational health and safety ("OHS") and bizSAFE (Level Star), the highest-grade certification of OHS standards in Singapore.

OHSAS18001:2007 are the international standards which were established in 1999 (revised in 2007) by a consortium of many organisations composed of British Standards Institution, Japanese Standards Association and independent certifying organisations etc. on the basis of BS8800 (the standards for OHS management system established by British Standards Institution). It provides for the scheme of identifying the risks relating to health and safety for the employees, drafting and implementing the measures against such risks, and regular audits and reviewing the management system.

bizSAFE is the government-led system in Singapore to grade the business entities satisfying specific standards for OHS according to five levels. USS had been graded as Level 3 since May 2011 but it kept endeavouring to improve its OHS level and was finally graded as the highest level (Level Star).

USS is a logistics company in Singapore engaged mainly in logistics operations in plants, transports and freight forwarding etc. for petrochemical companies. It has already attained certifications of ISO9001, ISO28001 and STP-Plus (the highest AEO certification in Singapore) and is still actively building up its internal management systems. USS, through such systems, will keep improving its service quality and occupational health and safety.
